Rural Education in the National Education Policy 2020

A few references to the rural are to be found in NEP 2020:

- When Olympiads and competitions are held, students in rural areas to be able to participate in them.
- Encourage outstanding students from rural areas to join the teaching profession. Merit-based scholarship to be established so that they could do the 4-year B.Ed. programmes and get jobs in the local area itself on completion of their B.Ed.
- Incentives provided for teachers to take up jobs in rural areas. Housing to be provided for teachers near the schools or providing increased housing allowances.

National Webinar on NEP 2020: Prospects and Challenges in Higher Education, Education In Rural India

NEP: Curtailing drop-outs and Universal Access

- 3.2 The first is to provide effective and sufficient infrastructure so that all students have access to safe and engaging school education at all levels from pre-primary school to Grade 12.
- 3.3 The second is to achieve universal participation in school by carefully tracking students, as well as their learning levels, in order to ensure that they (a) are enrolled in and attending school, and (b) have suitable opportunities to catch up and re-enter school in case they have fallen behind or dropped out.
- 3.4 Once infrastructure and participation are in place, ensuring quality will be the key in retention of students, so that they (particularly girls and students from other socio-economically disadvantaged groups) do not lose interest in attending school.
- 3.5 ...special emphasis on Socio-Economically Disadvantaged Groups (SEDGs) between the colleges. She elaborated on the evolving role of IQAC within the dynamic educational scenario, emphasizing its potential in planning and seamlessly integrating technology to enhance educational practices.

While delivering his address, Dr. Mohanbhai Patel, President of Janseva Samiti, imparted blessings to the audience and placed emphasis on transforming mindsets and attitudes towards teaching and learning. He illustrated this point through various examples and Shlokas, highlighting the importance of embracing change and adopting a positive approach to education.

Advocate Shri Sushil Vyas, President of Marwadi Sammelan, expressed gratitude to both the Honourable Vice Chancellors for their presence at the Seminar and recognized their significant contributions in planning, promoting awareness, and implementing the National Education Policy. He also extended his best wishes for the seminar, and appreciated the teams of both the colleges for their collaborative efforts.

Dr. Rajan Welukar, in his Keynote address enlightened the participants on the topic “Quality and Technology in Higher Education Changing Context”. He mentioned the struggle and efforts of Bharat Ratna Maharshi Dr. Dhondo Keshav Karve and Savitribai Phule for paving the way for women education. He emphasized on using relevant technology for enhancing the quality of higher education institutions. He spoke about the concept of speed and velocity and recommended that if we need to have pace with today's world, we need to be adaptive and understand the rate of change, as quality is a process and learning is lifelong. Sir guided about dimensions for maintaining quality in education, focus on student centric approach, creation of E-portfolios for every student, empowerment through reflection, critical thinking, encouragement of diversity, connectivity, inclusion, importance of interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary programs, etc. and how autonomy can help in achieving the institutional goals.

Honourable Vice Chancellor Madam of SNDT Women's University, Prof. Ujwala Chakradeo, reflected on Swami Vivekananda's teachings regarding education during her Presidential address. She emphasized the importance of making learning enjoyable for students, highlighting that our inner world holds greater significance than external world. Prof. Ujwala Chakradeo noted that despite our inherent spirituality, modern discussions often prioritize materialistic gains. She expressed optimism about the National Education Policy shifting towards a more informal paradigm, encouraging deeper introspection and a connection with our cultural heritage. Madam emphasized the importance of internalization of values while adapting to the era of constant change.

Honourable VC Madam informed about the innovative Project Jagrani, a research initiative undertaken by the university on Rishikas. She mentioned that till date, the research had revealed significant contributions of about 35 Rishikas to the Vedic scriptures. Through short videos created by the university, students were trained to narrate the teachings of these remarkable women, emphasizing the importance of narrating their stories from Vedic literature. This initiative, aims to honour and promote the invaluable contributions of these women to our cultural and intellectual heritage. Honourable VC Madam informed about an innovative 30-hour program, which includes a 3-day residential training, designed to empower students to earn 2 credits. They will be called as 'Narayani'. This role involves engaging with the community to raise awareness and share knowledge about the remarkable achievements of these Rishikas.

Honourable VC Madam expressed the importance of empowering women and how knowledge, when embraced as a संस्कृता (Sanskrita), can lead to the transformation of the world. She stressed that IQAC's role is to provide an environment of mutual respect and freedom, ensuring that students derive joy from their learning. Madam mentioned the significance of holistic learning, willingness of teachers to become co-learners and encouraging colleges and universities to undertake multidisciplinary projects. Hon'ble VC Madam also encouraged the colleges to pursue autonomy.

Both Vice Chancellors appreciated the collaborative efforts of Shri M. D. Shah Mahila College of Arts and Commerce and B. M. Ruia Girls' College for organizing the seminar, mentioning that such collaborations align with the principles outlined in the National Education Policy.

Dr. Santosh Kaul Kak, Principal, B. M. Ruia Girls' College, proposed the vote of thanks to all the dignitaries, management of both the institutes, IQAC Team, participants from other colleges for their gracious presence. She also reassured that both colleges would continue to empower students through ongoing collaborative activities

In Plenary Session I, Dr. B. S. Madhukar, Ex-Executive Committee member of NAAC, enlightened on the theme "The Changing Role of IQAC". He emphasized the need for IQAC to revisit concepts such as best practices and highlighted the significance of identifying internal communication barriers, which can incur costs in terms of time. Effective time management is crucial for the efficient functioning of colleges. He stressed that institutions must prioritize the interests of their stakeholders and promote collaborative efforts to achieve common goals. Dr. Madhukar advocated for institutions to assess their talent pool dynamics and provide appropriate training, while also addressing issues of equality, inclusion, and diversity by ensuring equal rights for all individuals.

He suggested planning activities in a manner that maximizes effectiveness and offered tips for implementing best practices. Dr. Madhukar emphasized that the role of IQAC is expanding, with the integration of AI becoming essential, and stressed the importance of selecting suitable technology for institutional needs. He discussed the significance of developing intellectual growth and advancing knowledge in higher education, referencing the journey from a teacher (Adhyapak) to a mentor (Guru) and highlighting teaching as an internal exploration.

During Plenary Session II, the topic, "AI for Institutional Data Management" was presented. Mr. Bhushan Ambedkar and his team from Divine Campus Infotech Private Limited presented their software specially designed to address various challenges related to admission, data input, examination management, admission processes, internal evaluations, certificate management, and other administrative and evaluative tasks essential for colleges. During the presentation, they highlighted the benefits of their software, which includes an AI personal tutor available 24/7 for both, teachers and students, a system for generating and evaluating papers, and other functionalities. They emphasized that while there is a common misconception that AI replaces teachers, their software is designed to assist teachers rather than replace them.

During the Valedictory Session, Dr. Pramod Pabrekar, Senior Consultant at PM USHA, delivered a talk focusing on the theme "Leveraging Alumni Network and Support." He emphasized the continuous need for teachers to prioritize learning, which in turn enhances their approach to delivering lectures and ensures quality in the teaching-learning process. He stressed the importance of regularly visiting websites such as NAAC, UGC, AICTE, and government portals to stay updated on changes related to the implementation of the National Education Policy. He encouraged the audience to maintain strong relationships with alumni through modern Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) solutions. This approach ensures that alumni remain active stakeholders in the ongoing educational reforms. Dr. Pabrekar also shared insights into his own role as an alumnus and highlighted his continued contribution even after retirement. In conclusion, Dr. Pabrekar reiterated the significance of lifelong learning and staying informed about educational advancements as key factors for successful teaching and institutional development.

The event was meticulously planned and executed by IQAC Teams of both the institutes and gracefully anchored by Dr. Subha Acharya, Dr. Ceena Paul, Dr. Nooruzia Qazi, Dr. Anita Jacob, and Dr. Sumita Guha, faculty members from both the colleges.

The National Level Seminar successfully facilitated knowledge exchange, networking, and collaboration among participants. It witnessed insightful deliberations, discussions, and the exchange of innovative ideas driven by technology. The seminar concluded successfully, receiving positive feedback from the participants.

Shri M. D. Shah Mahila College of Arts and Commerce was founded in 1968. It is a constantly evolving college that provides women's education to a significant number of female students in Mumbai's western suburbs. The College is associated with S.N.D.T. Women's University and supported by Janseva Samiti. The college provides undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in the Arts and Commerce faculties. It also offers a variety of professional degree programs such as BMS, BCA, BA-MM, BAFI, and BAF, as well as certificate programs in Travel and Tourism, Retail management, and other fields.

The Management is committed to making higher education accessible to girls, regardless of existing social or economic barriers. The institute is actively working to reduce many barriers that a girl child experiences in today's culture as she seeks to educate herself.

The College received the Best College Award from SNTD Women's University. The Maharashtra government rewarded the college at both the university and district levels as part of the Jager Janivacha campaign. The college was awarded the Performance Excellence Trophy in the IMC Ramkrishna Bajaj National Quality Award. In the fourth cycle of NAAC accreditation, the college received an 'A' grade.

The College is ISO Certified institution ISO 21001:2018 - Educational Institutes Management System, ISO 50001:2018 - Energy Management System, ISO 14001:2015 - Environmental Management System

Concept Note

Today, the value of quality in higher education cannot be overstated. It is essential for personal development, academic performance, employment, innovation and research, economic growth, and social mobility. Institutions and governments must stress quality assurance mechanisms to ensure that all students receive a high-quality education that prepares them for success. The role of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) becomes increasingly crucial in ensuring and enhancing quality. It should adapt to the changing scenario through a) Emphasizing Continuous Improvement b) Integrating Technology, and c) Addressing Diversity and Inclusion. To focus on the changing role of IQAC in achieving quality in higher education, Shri M.D. Shah Mahila College of Arts and Commerce and B. M. Ruia Girls' College propose to organize a one-day national-level seminar to bring together national academicians to reflect on the changing role of IQAC.

Areas of Discussion

- Quality and Technology in the Higher Education Changing Context
- Changing Role of IQAC in Today's World
- Artificial Intelligence for Institutional Data Management
- Leveraging Alumni Network and Support
